The manager has many responsibilities. The key to a successful program is in the hands of the manager and in turn, his/her players. Good leadership will ensure a good program.

2. The manager is the only team member that may ask the referee for an interpretation of a rule. The referee cannot be questioned on a judgment call.
3. We desire the best program possible for all interested persons, and only proper conduct and attitude of the participants can in turn ensure a wholesome program. We expect the cooperation of all those participants in the program and will not let it be spoiled by a few.

SECTION VII - Basic Fouls Reference

Below are the standard fouls in soccer. They are for your reference. Please read the FIFA "Laws" of the Game for the textbook descriptions. Please note that the fouls are interpreted by the referees and criteria such as intent, severity, etc., are applied by each referee on an individual basis.

Five minor fouls

Below are the five minor fouls. The penalty for committing any of these is an indirect kick by the opposing team. If any of these fouls occur in the opponent's penalty area, it is still just an indirect kick (not a penalty kick). The referee signals an indirect kick by keeping his or her hand raised in the air until the ball is touched by a second player on the field (the "free kick" is called indirect meaning that a goal cannot be scored directly, the ball must be touched by a second player first).

1. Obstruction - blocking an opponent from playing the ball when you are not attempting to play the ball yourself.
2. Dangerous play - playing in a manner considered dangerous by the referee (i.e. putting your foot too high next to a player that might cause an injury; you can also put your head too low next to a player and be guilty of a dangerous play).
3. Charging fairly (shoulder to shoulder) when the ball is not in playing distance.
4. Charging the goalie when the goalie does not have possession of the ball.
5. Taking more than six seconds to put the ball back into play if you are the goalie.

Nine major fouls

Below are the nine major fouls. The penalty for committing any of these is a direct kick by the opposing team. If any of these fouls occur in the opponent's penalty area, a penalty kick is awarded to the opposing team. To make it easy to remember them, there are four by the hands, three by the body and two by the feet.

1. Major fouls by the hands (4)
 - a. Handling the ball (unless you are the goalie within the penalty area).
 - b. Pushing or shoving an opponent.
 - c. Striking, spitting on or verbal abuse of an opponent.
 - d. Grabbing an opponent.
2. Major fouls by the body (3)
 - a. Jumping an opponent.
 - b. Charging an opponent from behind.
 - c. Charging an opponent in a dangerous manner (e.g. at high speeds).
3. Major fouls by the feet (2)
 - a. Kicking an opponent.
 - b. Tripping an opponent.

SECTION VIII - Protests

1. No protest shall be considered unless it involves a question of eligibility or misinterpretation of the rules. Judgment calls can't be protested.
2. The notification of intent to protest must be made immediately before the next play to the referee, and then the protest must be submitted in writing by the official representative of the team and presented to the official within 15 minutes upon completion of the protested game.
3. All protests regarding rule interpretation are governed by the Athletics Department.
